SENATOR DEBOE

Explains The Trouble He Had With John D. White.

The "Crested Jay-Hawker" Goes To The Door and Then Changes His Mind.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 25, '98. ED. PRESS: I saw an article in the Press relating to what occurred between John D. White and myself at the White House. The statement in the Press does me a great injustice. White was wholly in fault in every sense of the word. I told him if the President sent for me, after White had presented his case of contest against Hill, and thought Hill's name ought to be withdrawn, that I would consent. White never presented the case to the President, neither did the President send for me. White presented his case to a senate committee, which reported Hill's nomination favorably to the senate and he was confirmed. The next day I went to see the President on some business in company with congressman Pugh. As we came out of the room on our way home we met White in the hall. He asked me if I requested the President to withdraw Hill's name. I said no. I never promised to. He said I did and seemed mad and walked away a few feet. I was talking to some parties at the time and when I left them I went to White and said, "you are mistaken," and explained the matter. He said, "You are a liar," and repeated it three times; each time I said it was not so until the fourth time I said if any one has lied it is you. I did not raise a fuss with him and never dreamed of him acting as he did. I realized that I could not afford to have any difficulty with such a man. When I said, "if any one has lied it is you," he said, "If we were out of here I would whip you." I said, "This is no place for such conduct and we can go out and settle it." White followed me to the door and turned back. I had no weapon, neither did I attempt to draw any. These facts are wholly true and I hope you will do me the justice to publish this letter.

Respectfully,
 W. J. DEBOE.

A BIG JUDGMENT.

The Jury Gives Miss Lucas $25,000 for the Loss of a Limb.

By far the most important case tried in circuit court so far was that of Miss Gertrude Lucas of Caldwell county against the Louisville and Nashville railroad. Miss Lucas sued for $25,000 damages for the loss of her leg below the knee and three fingers of one hand.

Miss Lucas is a lady of unusual beauty and this fact was not the least factor in strengthening her case. She is of medium size, with very dark hair, luxuriant and wavy; big, expressive brown eyes, regular features, and a pretty mouth surrounded by dimples when she smiles.

The case was called early in the week and was given to the jury late Wednesday evening.

Miss Lucas was on a visit to a relative near Pembroke. She went to Pembroke to take the train for this city en route to her home. This depot is on the opposite side from the platform. Two trains were due and there was some doubt whether the train coming first was the one to stop or not. It was discovered when it came into view that it would stop, and there was a general rush of the passengers to cross ahead of the train. Miss Lucas was the last, and as the train came near she became stricken with fear and stood helpless from terror until struck by the train, which had slowed up to ten miles an hour. Her claim is based on the charge that a car on the siding obstructed the view, and that being struck with cold from waiting in a depot without fire, she was not in a condition to jump when she saw her danger, the platform being considerably higher than the track. This inability to escape paralyzed her energies and she was helpless in the face of danger. The railroad company was charged with negligence and an improper provision for the public safety.

The jury reached a verdict at 11 o'clock yesterday, giving Miss Lucas a judgment for $15,000 the full amount claimed. The judgment is the largest ever given in this county in a damage suit.

The case will as a matter of course be appealed and bitterly fought in the higher courts.

Miss Lucas lives at Fredonia, Ky., and is the daughter of a poor man. She appears to be about 19 years of age.—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

PATRIOT BANKERS.

American Bankers Leading a Movement in London to Avert Spanish American War.

London, March 24.—The imminent of the Cuban crisis has prompted financiers to make efforts to avert war. A movement to this end is on foot in Lombard street, and American bankers who are leading it are supposed to have the sympathy and perhaps the cooperation of the Rothschilds. The American bankers are endeavoring to secure the influence of financiers and governments, representing to them the danger to the commerce of all nations which a war would involve. The financiers are willing to invest liberally to prevent war, but apparently they are unable to devise a plan promising success. The American bankers tell the diplomats of the United States demands an indemnity and Spain is willing to pay financiers will gladly furnish the funds.

The best informed diplomats believe the Spanish Cabinet and dynasty dare not risk the wrath of the populace, which would inevitably follow acquiescence with the demand of the United States for the reparation for the loss of the Maine.

Prominent financiers calling upon the United States Ambassador, Col. John Hay, to seek inside information regarding the political situation, have been told by the Ambassador that he has not been informed as to the contents of the report of the U. S. Naval Court of Inquiry.

Financiers are also seeking to bring pressure upon Washington through diplomats, but it is believed they have met with little success.

The Spanish and Cuban firms and financial houses in London generally agree in expressing the opinion that there will be no war.

NEW COMET.

Traveling Toward Earth at the Rate of a Million Miles a Day.

Berkley, Cal., March 25.—The astronomers of the University of California discovered Sunday morning by Prof. Perrine, of the Lick Observatory, and according to them the comet will become brighter and remain in sight for some time. It is now traveling toward the earth at the rate of one million miles a day for the next two weeks it will continue to move northwesterly at the rate of one degree a day north, as well as east. It is visible about 4 o'clock in the morning.

DISCUSSED THE OUTLOOK.

Vice Presidents of the Association of Democratic Clubs in Session at Washington.

Washington, March 23.—Club organization and the outlook for the Democratic party in the next congressional campaign and the National contest of 1900 was the subject of interchanges of opinion at a conference held last night by a number of the vice presidents of the National Association of Democratic Clubs, in the association headquarters, Hutchins building, D and Tenth sts.

Representative Benton McMillan, chairman of the association's Executive committee, with Mr. Lawrence Gardner, secretary. Among others present were Blair Lee of Maryland, Joseph Wheeler of Alabama, J. G. McGuire of California, L. J. Hardy, of Ohio, T. C. McKee of Arkansas, J. T. Lenz of Ohio, J. L. Rawlings of Utah, J. T. Slaydon of Texas, and John F. Fitzgerald of Massachusetts. The opinion prevailed that the support of the principles of the last Democratic platform was extending and increasing, and that William Jennings Bryan would be the logical candidate for the Presidential nomination in 1900.

Secretary Gardner reported the large number of subscriptions already received, which indicates a gathering composed of prominent party men representing all sections of the country.

THE KENTUCKY

Slides Into Water, 'Mid Enthusiastic Shouts of Kentuckians.

Christened With Water, Besprinkled With Liquor and Blessed With Eloquence.

Newport News, Va., March 24.—Fully fifteen thousand people witnessed the launching of the great battleship Kentucky. The State for which the vessel was named was represented by the Governor and his staff and a host of prominent people.

Exactly at 11:35 o'clock the last stay holding the battleship Kentucky was knocked out, and as she gracefully slid down the greased ways into the ways into the water of Hampton Roads, steam whistles shrieked their greetings, flags waved from the stands of steam vessels, tugs, sail boats and a volume of sound from twenty five thousand throats gave welcome in shouts and huzzas to the splendid vessel.

Just as the ship was gliding away Miss Bradley, surrounded by her court of young women, smashed the now celebrated bottle of water against the prow of the vessel, saying, "I christen thee Kentucky." But others, who feared she would be hoodwinked with water, had small demijohns of whiskey, and these they dashed against the side of the ship as the Kentucky took her graceful plunge. The cruiser Brooklyn and monitor Puritan fired a salute to their sister ships, Kearsarge and Kentucky. Just before the launching Governor Bradley made a patriotic speech and Commissioners Weisinger, Bolksnap and Cowan took care of the crowd in splendid shape.

In response to the toast, "Kentucky," Gov. Bradley said:

"Which Kentucky? Is it the Kentucky whose people with one acclaim return thanks to the distinguished Secretary of the Navy for the splendid completion of the ship for their kind and generous courtesy and hospitality?"

"Is it the Kentucky whose name is written indelibly upon every chapter of the nation's history since her admission to the sisterhood of states?"

"Is it the Kentucky whose brave, bold pioneers rescued a wilderness from the savage and made it blossom as the rose?"

"Is it the Kentucky the eloquence of whose Clay, Crittenden, Marshall and Breckinridge shook the halls of Congress and stirred the hearts of the people on the hustings?"

"Is it the Kentucky of waving bluegrass, of crystal streams, blended mountain top and sky, of chivalrous men and beautiful women?"

"Is it the Kentucky whose gallant soldiers have ever been found in the forefront of battle, whose seamen have won fame upon the ocean and christened heathen lands with their precious blood?"

"Is it the Kentucky whose generous people sympathize with oppressed and downtrodden of every land and who earnestly desire that the nation shall intervene to prevent further atrocities upon the suffering people of Cuba, and if the investigation should justify, to avenge the death of our sailors, not by demanding an indemnity in money, but an indemnity in blood."

"Of this Kentucky I can not fittingly speak in the short time allotted me."

But it is the other Kentucky that calls for speech, poetry and song, that Kentucky which today gave its first kiss to the sea.

"There is no better ship, there can be no better name."

"When, fully manned and equipped she starts on her mission, we will all exclaim, 'God bless Kentucky on her head!—God speed and protect Kentucky on the sea!'"

No ship has ever been christened as it has been. Not according to the custom of pirate Vikings, clad with the skins of wild beasts, but with sparkling water from the spring that quenched the infant thirst of him who gave freedom to a race and saved our country from destruction. And when the great ship majestically moves to the glorious destiny which is in store for it, it will be sanctified by the prayers of more Christian women than all the others that have ever moved upon the face of the waters.

"Whether under calm and cloudless skies, or struggling with tempest and waves, whether in peace or war, there shall hover over it, not the spirit of alcohol, which has destroyed so many lives, desolated so many homes, and caused the shedding of so much blood and so many tears; but the spirit of Kentucky's noblest son, the grandest man in all the tide of time symbolized by God's gift to man, that which causes the earth to yield its fruit and harvest, which cleanses and purifies, which quenches the thirst of the living and relieves the parched lips of the wounded and the dying.

"Purity and patriotism have to day been blended in the christening of the ship, which I predict will win more fame, gather more laurels and accomplish more good than that has ever swept the seas."

"And in our parting with the majestic vessel, Kentuckians with one voice exclaim:

"In spite of rock and tempest's roar, in spite of false lights on the shore, sail on, nor fear to breast the seas: Our hearts, our hopes are all with thee, Our hearts, our hopes, our prayers, our tears, Our faith, triumphant o'er our fears, Are all with thee, are all with thee."

Patriotism of the Money Power.

It has often been said that gold is a coward in time of war, and it really seems as if the main supporters of gold in this country had become tinged with its character. The evidence that the "business interests" of New York have been making every effort to avert any action that could lead to war have become so strong that nobly any longer doubt the influence of Wall street in the matter.

The dispatches of yesterday mention the Standard Oil Company as one of the chief promoters of peace at any price doctrine. The tone of the capitalist press is becoming stronger in favor of leaving the unfortunate Cubans to their fate and proceeding with the occupation of money making without regard to their claims on our aid. We note with much regret that a paper usually so respectable as the Boston Herald takes up the miserable policy of the New York Post and says:

"Spanish misrule in Cuba is productive of nameless horrors and barbarities. The United States in taking steps which would bring about a war with Spain, a war in which, for a time at least, we should take upon ourselves some of the sufferings that now fall upon the Cubans. To suggest the negative may seem the counsel of selfishness. But what then? Is the United States to play the part of knight errant and attempt to relieve misfortune and succor distress all over the world; or even, with an eye to the Monroe doctrine, in the western hemisphere?"

What has this country come to when such sentiments are given utterance at the foot of Bunker Hill? Is there anything in the Monroe doctrine but knight errantry? Is it not an obligation that we took upon ourselves because we were strong to protect the weaker nations of the continent from foreign oppression. If our forefathers had not taken this view of our responsibility as a nation it is probable that a number of the republic

What of it! Does anybody weigh the money in the balance when considering the results or the real cost? And why should such a consideration be brought forward now? Are we as a nation to be deterred from a just and honorable course on account of a money expense. We think not. Whatever these publications and the influence back of them may think, we can repose confidence in American manhood so long as not one vote is cast in congress against an enormous appropriation to prepare the country for any course that honor and dignity may demand.—Indianaapolis Sentinel.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases, over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good work; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it cures that disease of all dangerous consequences. It is especially prized by mothers for their children, as it never fails to effect a speedy cure, and because they have found that there is not the least danger in giving it, even to babies, as it contains nothing injurious. In '80 the treasury department had to Congress a statement compiled to June 30, 1879, showing that the expenditures of the government on account of the civil war had then amounted to $6,189,929,808 58. No computation has been made since owing mainly to the difficulty in aggregating expenditures made after the lapse of so many years so as to show those actually due to the rebellion. If it were possible, however, to show figures since 1880, the enormous sum reported to that year as the cost of the war, would no doubt be considerably augmented. To this day claims are pending for stores and supplies taken by the armies during the war, and occasionally congress makes appropriations giving relief to claimants, or in many instances to the heirs of those long since dead. The pension roll, too, which last year resulted in the expenditure of $141,000,000, is an evidence that the cost of the war is not yet over, nor will it be for many years yet to come."

THE REPORT

Is at Last In The Hands of Congress and Action Expected.

Washington, March 29.—The President decided this afternoon, and so informed the members of his cabinet, to send a message to Congress and to turn over the entire matter practically to Congress.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The New Judge is Perfectly at Home on the Bench.

And Rushes the Business Along in a Manner that Pleases Litigants and Lawyers.

Monday circuit court convened with Judge Thomas J. Nunn on the bench. He fits the bench as handsomely, and moves along as gracefully and dignified as any man who has ever occupied that exalted position in the Marion court room.

The sheriff and his two deputies were sworn and J. H. Walker qualified as Trustee of the Jury Fund.

The grand jury was selected and the court proceeded with his instructions to the body. There were no trials nor forebodings in his address. He took up the various laws and in a concise manner pointed out to the jury its duty. Beginning at treason he ran down the line including the various crimes, dwelling briefly on some and at some length on others.

A call for the report of the various officers was made, and all responded, and the following showed the public monies collected: County judge $26; county clerk $273.45; circuit clerk $26.10. Magistrates: J. R. Postlethwaite $1; J. W. Mabry $6.50; J. R. Stanley $6; P. C. Moore $0.01.

The call of the docket was commenced and up to noon Wednesday the following cases had been disposed of:

Continued.—Six forfeited recognizance cases against Aaron Walker; cases against Ira Gues, Ed Martin, F. Milligan, Joel Taber, John Canapple, Henry Helm, Cob Lynn, Ernest Boyd Joe Walker, Robt Brown, Dr Ben Franklin, Victor Hurst, Mary Rushing, Logan Belt, Jeff Elder, Tell Pip pin, Wm Burton, Albert Johnson.

Judgment for $300 for the common wealth against John King, A. M. Sma'l and G. R. Cook, forfeited recognizance in the Ben King case, was rendered.

Commonwealth cases against Frank Hardin, Harvey Lynn, J. W. Dulany were filed away.

Ab Ford, furnishing liquor to minor, two cases; dismissed. No evidence to show guilt.

Haywood York, petty larceny, abated; tried in quarterly court.

Bessie Wheeler was declared to be of unsound mind.

H. L. Hazel, breach of the peace; acquitted by a jury.

The case against Charley Murphy, charged with murder, is docketed for Wednesday, April 6.

The case of Jo A. Parker against the Louisville Dispatch, for damages, is on the docket for Tuesday, April 5. Geo. Walmer, breaking into store house, sent to the penitentiary for one year.

J. N. Towery, concealed weapons acquitted.

Annis Kennies, assault and battery, fined $2.50.

THE OBSERVANCE OF EASTER.

The Discrepancy in Computing the Date was not Corrected Until 1752.

"The observance of Easter dates back to about the year 68, at which time there was much contention among the Eastern and Western churches as to what day the feast should be observed. It was finally ordained at the council of Nice in the year 327 that it must be observed throughout the Christian world on the same day; this decision settled that Easter should be kept the Sunday first after the fourteenth day of the first Jewish month, but no general conclusion was arrived at as to the cycle by which the festival was to be regulated and some of the churches adopted one rule and some another. This diversity of usage was put an end to and the Roman rule making Easter the first Sunday after the 14th day of the calendar moon was established in England in 689. After nine centuries a discrepancy in the keeping of Easter was caused by the authorities of the English church declining to adopt the reformation of the Gregorian Calendar in 1582. The difference was settled in 1752, by the adoption of the rule which makes Easter Day always the first Sunday after the full moon that appears on or next after the twenty first day of March. If the full moon happens upon a Sunday, Easter is the Sunday after.—April Ladies Home Journal.

We report no thoroughbred horses.
Two thoroughbred male bovines are reported.

We have not a red cent, according to the books, invested in jewelry.
Hundreds of dollars are sent out of the county every year for grass seed, but only 164 bushels were harvested in the county.

TEST CASE.

An Agreed Suit to Test the Town Dispute.

Tuesday the city council held a meeting and decided to file an agreed suit in the circuit court. The suit will involve two points for the court to pass upon—the validity of the town election and if invalid how can the vacancies be filled. The suit is filed with the expectation of getting a decision at the present term of court.

White-Crow II.

On Monday, March 21, at the home of Mr. A. M. Baldwin, Elizabethtown, Ill., Mr. Wilkey W. White and Miss Sallie F. Crowell were united in the holy bonds of wedlock. Rev. Hughes pronounced the ceremony that made two happy hearts one. After the ceremony the guests were regaled with an elegant dinner. Mr. White is one of Crittenden promising young farmers. The bride is one of Hoods most beautiful accomplished young damsels. Mr. White and his bride will at once begin house-keeping near Tolu.

There are a number of young men who are liable to make their names well known in the political history of the State at no distant day. Malloy, Nelson, Stout, Melan, North, Perkins, Humphreys, Moore, Weatherford, Chilton, O'Sullivan, Henderson and Walker are all young men, and their record in the legislature is such as to give confidence that they will be heard of in the future. On the Republican side, without making any invidious comparison, might be mentioned as the leaders Myers, Ogden, Wheeler, Haswell and Sargent. Louisville Dispatch.

Mr. R. C. Walker was one of the ablest men in the legislature. He was always at his post of duty, and was ever ready to give his opinion on a measure that did not meet his approbation. His judgement was sound, his perception quick and his patience untiring. He made a fine representative of Crittenden and Livingston counties, and while we are not familiar with the personnel of his predecessors, we venture the assertion that his district has not sent a better all-round man to the legislature, in many years. Besides being a good lawyer, Bob Walker stands in the front rank of Kentucky's country editors.—Princeton Pa. ex.

In Memoriam.

Whereas, it has pleased the Supreme Ruler of the Earth and Heaven to call from time to eternity our beloved brother and associate, Dr. A.
J. Donahue. We humbly submit to the inevitable. Dr. Donahue was born in 1836 and died March 1, 1898, aged 62 years.

As a physician Dr. Donahue was conscientious and painstaking, very careful both as to treatment, diagnosis and progress. To his patients he was kind and true, giving to them his closest attention, and his most careful thought; was kind, courteous and sufficiently dignified to obtain the confidence and love of his patrons. In practice he had good success. To his medical brethren he was courteous, and obeyed the Hippocratic obligation he took at graduating, fulfilling the code of medical ethics. He was a charter member of the Crittenton community medical society and took a deep interest in its success. He was a Mason of high standing and was buried with Masonic honors.

We feel that in the death of Dr.
Donahue we have not only lost a professional brother, but each of us a valued friend, and the profession a noble and true member, the community at large a safe medical counselor. We offer the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we make the above a part of our proceeding and enter it upon our minute book and cause a copy to be printed in the Crittenton Press.

J. T. Atchison, Frasier,
T. O. Dixon,
C. G. Moreland,
Committee.
Approved by the Crittenton Community Medical Society.

Tribute of Respect.

Resolutions adopted by Carrville
Lodge No. 665 F and A M:

Whereas, The Supreme Ruler of the Universe has in his wisdom removed from among us one of our worthy and esteemed fellow laborers, Bro W.
H. Crawford, and whereas, the long and intimate relations held with him in the faithful discharge of his duties in this Lodge, make it eminently fitting that we should record our appreciation of him. Therefore

Be it resolved, That the wisdom and ability in aid, service, counsel and contributions to this Lodge will be held in grateful remembrance.

Resolved that the removal of his life from among us leaves a vacancy realized by all the members of this Lodge and community that will be hard to fill.

Resolved, That with deep sympathy for the bereaved family and friends of the deceased we express our hope that even so great a loss to us may be overruled by him who doeth all things well.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of this Lodge, a copy furnished the family of deceased and a copy to the Crit-tenton Press, Banner and Home Journal for publication.

Cures

"Cures talk" in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla, as for no other medicine. Its great cures recorded in truthful, convincing language of grateful men and women, constitute its most effective advertising. Many of these cures are appealing. They have won the confidence of the people; have given Hood's Sarsaparilla the largest sales in the world, and have made necessary for its manufacture the greatest laboratory on earth. Hood's Sarsaparilla is known by the cure it has made—cures of scrofula, salt rheum and eczema, cures of rheumatism, neuralgia and weak nerves, cures of dyspepsia, liver troubles, catarrh—cures which prove Obituary.

Jerse Guthrie Brashier, son of Jerse and Mary Brashier, was born October 12, 1891, died March 18, 1898. He was sick twenty days and suffered a great deal. Everything that willing hands and kind and loving hearts could do was done for him, but all was of no avail, the Lord took him to the bright and beautiful world above.

Guthrie was a bright and loy boy and a favorite with his relatives and friends, and the idol of the hearts of his parents. It is so hard to part with our dear children. He was a member of the Master Church, and he believed in his Word, "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." We should remember that "the Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away".

Dear father and mother, dry up your tears, your precious loved one has gone on before where he will be standing at the beautiful gates watching and waiting for you.

The funeral was preached by the writer at Cardwell Spring church from II Samuel 12 chapter 23d verse,
"I shall go to him but he shall not return to me," and then we laid him to rest in the Caldwell Springs cemetery to await the resurrection.
W. R. Gibbs.

LIQUORS DO NOT WARM.

Science Has Demonstrated That Fact.

It was long ago determined, first by Dr. N. S. Davis, later by Sir Benjamin Richardson, of London, and subsequently by a great number of observers, that alcohol, while producing a sensation of warmth, actually lessens bodily heat. For this reason all arctic explorations undertaken within the last quarter of a century have been conducted on total abstinence principles. The explanation which has been offered for the evident lowering of temperature produced by alcohol has been the rapid increase in the loss of heat due to the dilatation of the surface blood vessels, which occur under the influence of alcoholic liquors of all sorts. Professor Reichert, of Philadelphia, has recently demonstrated, however, that alcohol not only increases the loss of heat, but also decreases its production. The observation leaves no standing room whatever for those who have heretofore claimed a food value for alcohol on the basis that it offered a substance capable of prompt absorption and ready oxidation within the body. It is easy to understand how alcohol lessens heat production, since the production of heat is dependent upon oxygen taken into the system, and it is well known that the influence of alcohol upon the red corpuscles of the blood is such as to greatly diminish their ability to absorb and transmit the oxygen to those portions of the body in which oxidation are carried on. Hence the effect of alcohol upon the body is essentially that of closing the draft of a stove.—John H. Kellogg, M. D.

SLEEP AT NIGHT.

A Physician Says it is More Beneficial
Than in Daytime.

"It is better to sleep at night than in the daytime. To sleep at night is as much an hereditary feature as to have three meals a day. A deviation from this must bring disturbances to an individual. There may be exceptional cases. Vigorous people may accustom themselves to a reverse of these hours with seemingly no injury. Health is a relative matter, however, and these day sleepers will be still more vigorous if they rested at night in the ordinary manner; one thing is certain, people who are troubled with insomnia always rest better in darkness than in the light; for day animals, such as we undoubtedly are, darkness is a more favorable time for sleep than daylight. Many of the people who work at night and have to sleep during the day complain that this keeps them from being vigorous.

I believe nature intended that human beings should sleep at night.
Some animals we designed to be awake at night. Their eyes are so constructed that they see more clearly at night than in daylight. Human beings need sunshine and light in their waking hours.

"When a man should retire is a matter largely of heredity. A famer's son will nearly invariably want to be in bed early and up early. Descendants of city residents are late risers. Many people get a much better nights rest by retiring at midnight than by retiring at 9 o'clock.
I consider it a misfortune that children should have to be awakened so early in the morning to attend school.
It is perfect torment to them and is unwholesome. They should be allowed to sleep later.

As to the number of hours that a person should sleep, that is a matter of individuality. Leibnitz, it is said slept only three hours a day, and yet had a vigorous mind and body. It is said some people can get along on six hours, others need eight, and some need ten or twelve. It is a matter of constitution and predisposition."

NOT POLITICAL POT.

The Republican Party of Tennessee is Split Wide Open

Chattanooga, Tenn., March 19.— The county political campaign is warming up. The two Republican factions are whetting their tomshawks for each other in the county race.

The lines between the H. Clay Evans and anti Evans factions are being closely drawn. One wing of the Republican party has been fighting Pension Commissioner Evans for the past year, claiming that he has not recognized his Southern political adherents as he should. Those who have received office through the influence of Mr. Evans and his friends are being fought by the anti Evans faction.

The party is in such a shape that it will be almost impossible for the Republicans to win in this state in the coming contest. They have already announced that no candidate will be run against Judge Floyd Es-till, Democrat, for the judgeship of this judicial circuit.

Showers of Sulphur.

Richmond, Ky., March 23.—What was at first supposed to be a preventive by health officers against spread of smallpox turns out to be a phenomenon. Monday and Tuesday nights large quantities of sulphur were discovered in different parts of the city, in streets and in yards. The find at first attracted but little attention but since its origin is such a mystery it is becoming a matter of great concern. There are reports from Mt.
Vernon and other points that a similar visitation occurred there. The sulphur appears early of mornings, and after the hard night rains.
